What is UDLN Online?

It is an online community for members of the Urban District Leadership Networks and its affiliated partners. Using the Ning social networking platform, we aim to help you build upon and extend the collaborative work of UDLN in an easy to navigate, virtual space.

How can I participate?

Membership is by invitation only from network administrators. If you are a member of UDLN, you are automatically invited to participate. Once you receive an invitation to join, sign up and create a basic profile to begin “UDLNing.” If you have not received an invitation, email udln@austin.utexas.edu.

What if I have never used a social network before?

Do not worry. The Ning platform is very user friendly and similar to other social networks like Facebook. If you are having difficulty, visit the “New Here?” page for a tutorial or contact the network administrator.

What can I expect from UDLN Online?

By joining and participating you can expect to interact with colleagues and key experts in a private, virtual space specifically designed to facilitate our work. Also, UDLN online will act as a central location for all of the up to date information needed to support the implementation of the Common Core State Standards.

We look forward to UDLNing with you!
